Cada noche, mientras los demás gatitos dormían, Leo contemplaba las estrellas acurrucado bajo el cálido abrazo de su mamá.

Leo se preguntaba a cuántos miles de kilómetros se hallaban los estrellas, por qué era tan brillante su luz y cómo era posible que la Luna tuviese tantas formas. Había estudiado los ocho planetas del sistema solar y los satélites más importantes. Conocía las distintas formas de las galaxias, los cometas que pasan cerca de la Tierra y los asteroides más grandes.

LEO AND THE STARS

+3 years

Leo feels different from the other cats in the colony. While everyone enjoys playing with the yarnball, he prefers to watch the sky and study the Universe. The teacher often complains that this student of hers is not like the others. Leo's mother, worried, also tries in every possible way to make her son a "normal" cat.

"Leo and the Stars" is a story about self-discovery and self-acceptance, where parents play a fundamental role as companions in this process.

En el colegio, todos los gatitos de la colonia practicaban el avillapata, un juego que consistía en hacer rodar con sus patitas una enmarañada madeja de lana.

Sin embargo, Leo no sentía el más mínimo interés por este deporte y solaba despierto con subirse a un cohete espacial que lo llevara a visitar todo el universo.

GUSIS' SUPERHERO

Binding: Hardcover

You will enjoy reading it if you like the adventures of Asterix, the Smurfs, the Minions, Tintin or the Disney movies that are for the fun of the whole family, both children and adults.

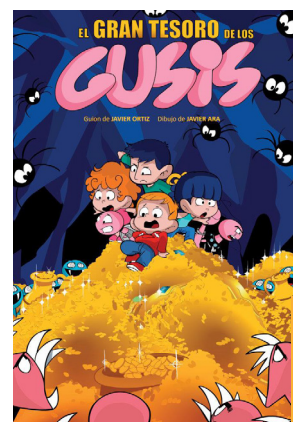

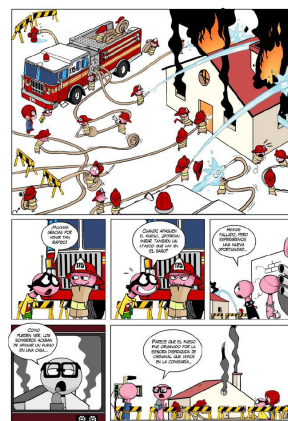

Hordes of monsters, police vampires, thieves of the Treasury... These are hard times in the County of the gusis. But out of the darkness comes a light, a mysterious superhero who will solve all the problems... Or maybe, not. All this and more in the Show In, the most watched show on TV in the County!

Four children of different ages enter a parallel world in which live creatures that cannot be seen by adults and whom they mistakenly call gusis. These creatures do not see them as children, but as ladies and treat them as if they were adults, which leads to countless and amusing misunderstandings.

The children, believing that everything is a game, break their laws and create conflicts, although a superhero will also emerge among them who will "help" the gusis in their problems.

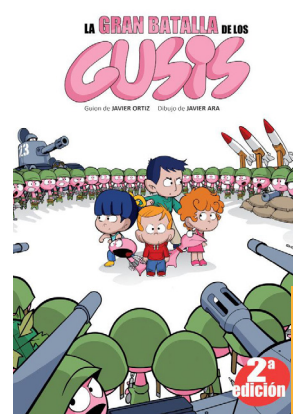

Children laugh a lot with these comics, while learning that all actions can have consequences, even those that seem very funny at first.

THE PASTRY CHEF

+5 years

This story introduces us to a pastry baker who works and struggles to make his best cake, but gets distracted by looking at others' work. In his eyes, everyone has, fortunately or unfortunately, the best ingredients or tools. He is so concerned about what the rest is doing that he does not notice what is around him. The Pastry Chef speaks of acceptance and appreciation of what each of us is. It is not the ingredients that matter, but what we can do with them.

PAVI AND THE RED SCARF

+4 years

Pavi plays happily with his friends. Lia laughs at him because he always wears a red scarf and because he doesn't follow her when she wants to go somewhere dangerous. Others will go and have problems, but Pavi is clear about what he has to do. Thanks to him and his scarf, everyone will be saved and form a single group.

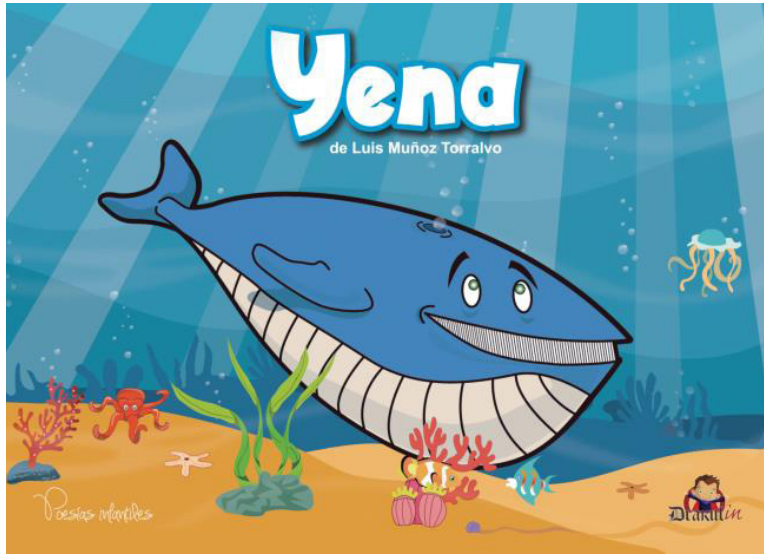

Friendship based on respect is essential to building relationships. Judging is a common mistake that needs to be corrected. Education is about understanding and sympathizing to form your own opinion. Leaving prejudices behind and recognizing the value people helps to be happy.

El Pavi era un osset espavilat, i el que més li agradava era jugar amb els seus amics.
—Avui també m'he de posar la bufanda? —va preguntar a la seva mare.
—I tant! Ja saps que és important. Resalta sobre la neu blanca i així ens podem trobar quan vulguem.
—És veritat, mare —va contestar convençut abans d'anar a cercar els amics.

A partir d'aquell dia es van convertir en un sol grup.
Tothom sabia sempre on eren per les seves bufandes. Omplien de color i d'alegria el blanc de la neu que els rodejava per tot arreu.

UNA PROFESIÓN CON FUTURO

Me llamo Yumiko Vega Baez, pero mis amigos me llaman Yumi. Bueno, y la mayoría de las personas del mundo no son mis amigos, pero también me llaman Yumi.

Tengo diez años y voy al colegio público Infante Froilán de Mostoles. Lo que más odio del mundo es el color rosa, los exámenes sorpresa y los piñoneros; y lo que más me gusta son los macarones cuatro quesos, los videojuegos y tocar la batería. Nuestra profesora de 4ºB, doña Paquita, nos ha ordenado escribir una redacción sobre lo que queremos ser de mayores. Yo eso lo tengo claro: voy a ser baterista de un grupo súper famoso. Ahora toco la batería en un grupo con mis amigos.

Doña Paquita nos castigó sin recreo aquel día por vándalos, iconoclastas y malhechores. Durante el castigo, nos informó de que se iban a decorar la máscara con mucho esmero y buen gusto, porque el colegio iba a hacer una exhibición con todas las máscaras de los alumnos. A esa exhibición iba a asistir el concejal de cultura de nuestro querido Ayuntamiento de Mostoles, y en el mismo concejal iba a visitar los trabajos. Así que esperaba que nos esforzáramos para que pareciera que somos niños bien formados por el sistema educativo de la Comunidad de Madrid, en lugar de dejarnos en mal lugar, como solemos hacer siempre.

Por último, doña Paquita nos dijo que por sí no fuera suficiente motivación que todo un señor

My name is Yumi, I'm ten years old. When I grow up I'm going to be a drummer in a rock band, because it's a profession with a lot of future, and I'm going to become rich and famous that way. Now I play drums in a band with my friends. We're not famous yet, and I don't understand why, because we're so cool.

Apart from my band, I have Vermin, who is my best friend, although he's quite a dork. Also, my parents spend their lives scolding me, my older sister has a disease called adolescence, and my little brother is a criminal mind locked up in the body of a two-year-old. Here I'm going to tell you all the amazing stories that happen to me. Real truly truth.

The incredible story I'm going to tell you started because we wanted to record a video clip. And then my friend Vermin decided that he was going to be a rock star. Then I got in trouble, and my father made me promise to always tell the truth, but because of that I got in even more trouble. Meanwhile, my sister Alex and I put a border in the middle of our room, and neither could enter, the other's territory. And my mother, who goes her own way, forced my brother Tetete and me to accompany her to the premiere of the new movie of her favorite star saga.

In the end we filmed the video clip, but the school made a threedimensional fuss. Of course, we were not to blame, for the record. Here I will explain all these things to you, and some more that I can't remember now. Real truly truth.

TAP & TALK PHONICS

TAP&TALK
+3 years

TAP & TALK teaches children the sounds made by individual letters or letter groups, helping them learn how to blend separate sounds into a single word.

Rather than expecting children to pick up these associations indirectly, TAP & TALK teaches the specific connections between letters and sounds. Given English's complex spelling system, TAP & TALK helps children decode letters into their respective sounds, an essential skill for reading unfamiliar words independently.

Since most words are initially unfamiliar to young readers in print – even if they know the words when spoken – understanding letter-sound relationships helps bridge the gap between unfamiliar printed words and spoken language.

Effective phonics instruction is crucial, as letter-sound knowledge forms the foundation needed to develop reading and writing skills.

The History of Money uses a fun – and engaging – narrative to tell the story of how money originated and evolved from ancient times to today. Covering everything from barter to cryptocurrencies – with delightful illustrations – it explores the many forms of payment that have existed, like shells, salt, and precious stones. The goal of this first title in the Value Kids collection is to demonstrate the need for money and highlight the limitations of bartering – an initiative by Value School to promote financial literacy among young children.

Understanding how advertising works today is essential for becoming responsible consumers. This second illustrated title in the Value Kids collection – created by Value School to promote financial literacy among young children – takes readers back to the origins of advertising and examines how it influences our daily lives.

The Fact Factory is a new STEAM series designed to make reading accessible to all. It is created especially for marginalised readers – children with dyslexia, visually impaired readers, and reluctant readers – by combining audio and text. It's also an excellent resource for English-language learners.

All content is recorded by child voice-over actors (Andy, Izzy, Brody, Heidi, Sayid, and Brooke). These characters share fun and fascinating facts on animals, insects, the human body, famous people, sea creatures, and iconic buildings in each issue.
